

Loyolite Kishore Aravind Led Team Wins Bronze At The National Inter University Squash Championship

Loyolite Kishore Aravind, 20-UDJ-043, has led his team and won bronze at the National Inter University Squash championship conducted in Haridwar, Uttarakhand last week. Hailing from a family of sports champions, Kishore Aravind led the team of 5 members of the University of Madras to win bronze in the championship with 32 competitors.

Kishore Aravind, student of II year Digital Journalism at Loyola KAUSHAL Kendra, has sports in his DNA. His mother, C.Amutha, is a gold medal winner in triathlon at the Asian Championship conducted in China, 2001. His father, Raghu M, is a national champion in diving. From being the national champion at the school level squash championship to winning the bronze at Inter University competition, Kishore Aravind is scaling new heights and bringing laurels to the institutions. Loyola College and KAUSHAL Kendra wish him great success ahead at this momentous occasion.
