

Loyola College (Autonomous)
Chennai – 600 034.

Department of English (Shift 2)

Guest Lecture - Report

As a part of class activity Dr. Supriya sam, Assistant professor of the Department of English (Shift 2), Loyola College, organized a guest lecture by Mr. T. A. Dev of HDFC Bank on 12th September 2018 at the Life building Loyola College. The event commenced with a warm welcome speech by Kailash Gowtham 2nd year U.G. Economics.

In his address Mr. Dev stressed on the need to have effective communication and how it is useful for us to attain our goal. He even gave some examples from his past experiences at both college as well as at the workplace. Apart from a usual straight jacket lecture this was an interactive session with bit of mockery, jokes etc. His talk was about CORPORATE ETTIQUETTE and emphasized on how to attend an interview and how to have an executive way of communication. The lecture started around 4:30 p.m. and ended around 5:35 p.m. The event ended with vote of thanks by Vishnu 2nd year U.G. Economics.