Important Takeaways

Some salient points to remember before taking up an interview are as follows:

- It is imperative to communicate elegantly and proficiently in English.
- Clarity of thought and articulation of speech is necessary for effective communication.
- While the interviewer is asking a question, make sure to understand the real meaning and do not assume if it is ambiguous.
- Before going to an interview study the context of it - job description, about the organization, etc
- If you don't know the answer to a question, then politely admit the same and remark that you would get back to them through an email or so with the answer. Do not make up answers or guess them.
- Being punctual is vital as it will help us to be calm and composed before the interview.

Conclusion

The resource person - Mr. Silvester Antony conducted the session in a highly interactive way. The students clarified their doubts and jotted down the valuable inputs gained through his session. It turned out to be an enlightening session for both the first and second years of the Department of Social Work.
