

Effective Communication Programme (Spoken English)

The department of outreach had taken up the additional responsibility of organizing spoken English classes for the beneficiaries (Outreach adopted) of the sponsorship programme of HOT BREADS.

The inaugural function was held on 19/08/2007 in J.D Hall at Loyola College.

Rev. Fr. Albert Muthumalai S.J., Principal of Loyola College presided over the function and elaborated the importance of this programme. He vowed to extend the necessary facilities and support.

Rev. Fr. Xavier S.J., Vice-Principal and Director of Loyola Outreach Programme spoke on the participative role of Loyola Outreach in creating men and women for others. He stressed on the essentiality of effective communication through English in the changing global scenario.

Rev. Fr.Emma S.J., Counselor vividly explained the scope, categories and prospects of communicative English. He successfully motivated the target group.

Finally the students were divided into 13 groups of 10 students each. The classes are scheduled to be conducted on all Sundays from 9 to 12 noon for this academic year (2007-2008) at Loyola College, Chennai.

The course content is divided into 50 units with theory and practice in each unit. Faculty members of Outreach are totally involved in this endeavor.
