DEPARTMENT OF B. COM(HONOURS)

Report on the Seminar: "From Classrooms to Career: Transitioning Smoothly with Higher Education"

On the occasion of Youth Day, the Department of B. Com (Honours) at Loyola College, Chennai, organized a career guidance seminar titled "From Classrooms to Career: Transitioning Smoothly with Higher Education." The seminar was held on 12th August 2024. It aimed to provide clarity and guidance to the students, helping them navigate the challenges as they transition from academic life to professional careers.

Mr. Rajesh Chandrasekaran, an experienced academic mentor from the TIME Institute, Chennai, conducted the seminar. The session, held at the LIAC Conference Hall, was highly interactive, engaging the students with practical insights on smoothly transitioning into the real world. It began at 11:30 AM and concluded at 1:00 PM.

Mr. Chandrasekaran, known for his dynamic and humorous approach, started by emphasizing the importance of preparing for the next steps after completing their degree. He touched upon various crucial aspects of career planning, including how to handle interviews and group discussions. A mock interview and group discussion were conducted during the seminar, allowing students to gain hands-on experience in tackling such scenarios. Mr. Chandrasekaran shared invaluable tips on performing confidently during these processes, further enhancing the students' career readiness.

Another significant takeaway from the seminar was the emphasis on pursuing higher education, particularly an MBA from a prestigious institution. Mr. Chandrasekaran explained how a well-recognized qualification could give students a competitive edge in the job market and open doors to better career prospects.

The students were deeply engaged throughout the seminar and participated enthusiastically in the activities. The interactive nature of the session, coupled with the resource person's lively presentation style, made the event informative and enjoyable. The feedback from the students was overwhelmingly positive, with many appreciating the real-world insights and practical advice they received.

The seminar concluded with a Q&A session, where students could ask questions and seek further clarification on their career concerns. The resource person responded to their queries, providing additional guidance to help them make informed decisions about their future.

Overall, the seminar was a great success, equipping students with the knowledge and confidence they need to transition smoothly from the classroom to their careers.
