

Loyola College(Autonomous), Chennai-34

Department of B.Com (Honours)

Report on Industrial Visit to DP World Chennai

The Department of B.Com (Honours) organized an industrial visit for the 2nd-year students to DP World Chennai on 4th September 2024. The purpose of the visit was to provide students with practical exposure related to their Logistics & Supply Chain Management course. The visit aimed to enhance their understanding of real-world logistics operations, safety protocols, and the impact of technological advancements in the field.

Details of the Visit

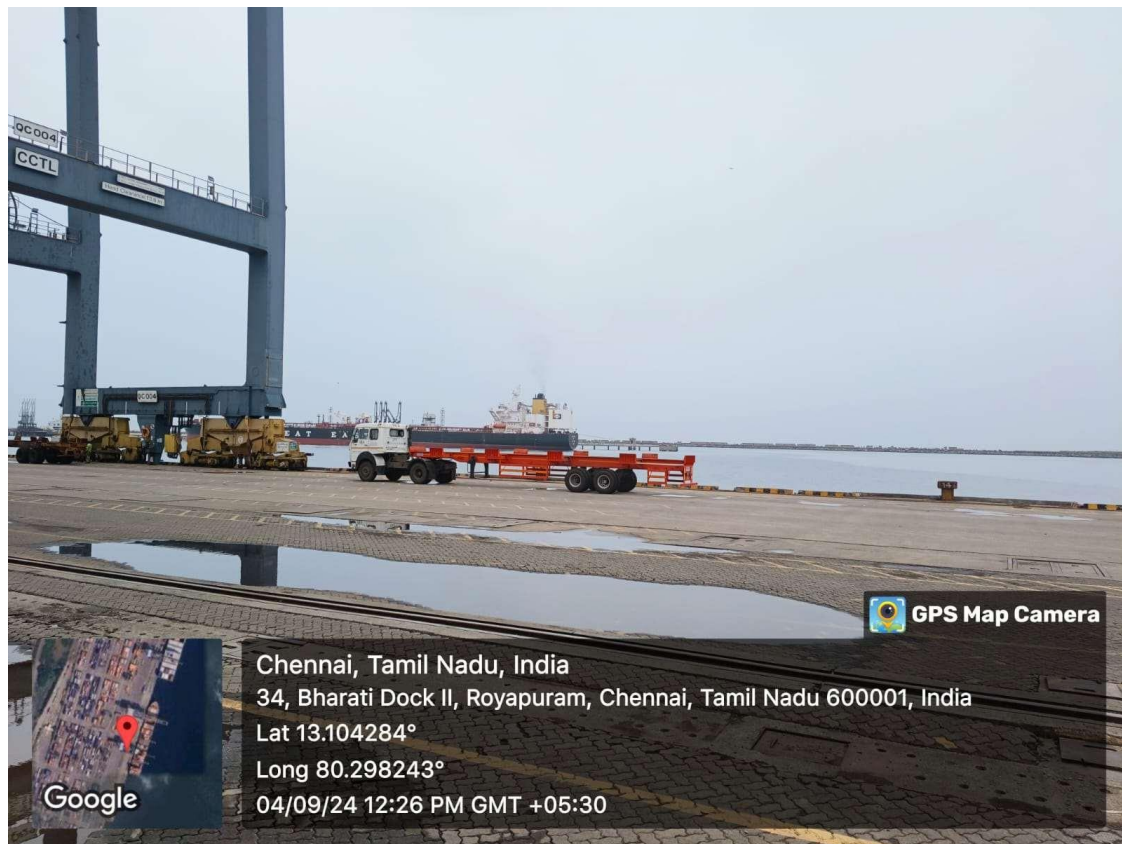

Departure: The students, accompanied by faculty members, traveled by bus from Loyola College, Chennai, to DP World, Chennai.

Introduction and Presentation: Upon arrival, the students were welcomed and briefly introduced to the history of DP World in India. This was followed by a detailed presentation conducted by the professionals at DP World. The presentation covered various aspects of logistics operations, including safety procedures, technology integration, and material handling.

Interactive Session: There was an interactive Question and Answer session after the presentation. Students actively participated by asking questions related to real-world scenarios, competition in the logistics sector, and the influence of geopolitical and technological environments on logistics and supply chain management. The professionals provided insightful answers, significantly enriching the students' learning experience.

Terminal Visit: The students were then guided on the terminal's tour. They traveled by bus to view the operations firsthand, observing the processes and technologies used in managing the logistics at DP World Chennai.

Conclusion

The industrial visit concluded with the students returning to Loyola College by bus. The visit was highly educational, offering the students a practical understanding of the logistics and supply chain management concepts taught in the classroom. The hands-on experience and interaction with industry professionals gave the students valuable insights that will undoubtedly aid their academic and professional pursuits.