VALEDICTORY REPORT – PG AND RESEARCH DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

On the vibrant morning of March 17th, 2025, the PG and Research Department of Commerce, a beacon of academic excellence and tradition, held its grand valedictory function at 11:30 a.m. in the Beschi Hall. The event was a perfect blend of joy, gratitude, and reflection, celebrating the relentless spirit and contributions of the students, faculty, and the department as a whole.

The ceremony was graced by an inspiring and accomplished chief guest, Ms. Sowjanya BNK, Director of Business Analytics and Client Partner at iLink Digital Solutions, Chennai. Her presence elevated the spirit of the function, infusing it with a sense of vision and aspiration. The event began with a soulful prayer song rendered by the LCA Choir, setting a serene and graceful tone.

Dr. Xavier Mahimairaj, our esteemed Head of the Department, delivered a warm and thoughtful welcome address, acknowledging the academic journey of the year and the efforts of every student. Dr. Remigius Mary, the dynamic President of the Loyola Commerce Association, introduced the chief guest with great enthusiasm and pride, highlighting her achievements in the digital industry. Following this, a ceremonial honoring took place, presenting a memento and shawl to Ms. Sowjanya as a mark of respect and appreciation.

In the recognition segment, Mr. Nishith proudly presented the significant achievements of the department over the academic year, applauding the milestones that have shaped our legacy. The spotlight then turned to the student community, all office bearers of the Loyola Commerce Association were honored with trophies and certificates for their dedication and active involvement. Best participants from each class were also recognized, adding to the jubilant atmosphere of celebration.

A key highlight of the day was the insightful seminar by the chief guest on the theme “Empowering Women in the Digital Age: Opportunities and Challenges.” Her speech was a compelling mix of practicality and inspiration, offering a deep dive into the digital landscape through a gender empowerment lens. The audience was captivated by her powerful message and progressive vision, which left a lasting impression.

The crowning glory of the event was the grand release of the department magazine – Pulse, Volume 4, Issue 5.

The core team members were Hashedha M, Daniya Erum I, Anish N, Sreenivas R, Jefferson Manuvel Raj who dedicatively taken initiative and designed the Magazine. This edition marked a new milestone In our department’s publishing journey, featuring an exceptional number of articles contributed by our students on the theme of Artificial Intelligence. The depth and originality of the content truly reflected the intellectual vigor and academic curiosity of our commerce students. Beyond articles, Pulse also showcased the vibrant creative spirit of our students through stunning artworks, brain-teasing business quizzes, puzzles, and crosswords. This edition stood as a testament to our students’ enthusiasm towards learning beyond textbooks and embracing innovation in thought and expression.

The function concluded on a warm note with a group photo session, capturing memories and smiles that will be cherished for years to come. The Vote of Thanks was delivered by Mr. Anish N., gracefully acknowledging the efforts of everyone who contributed to the success of the event.

The valedictory was not just a celebration but a reflection of the unity, passion, and excellence that defines the PG and Research Department of Commerce. The constant support and the positivity of our Association President Dr. Remigius Mary was the driving force of our spirit and success. With minds enriched and hearts full, the event beautifully encapsulated the journey of yet another fruitful academic year.
