Rev. Fr Francis Bertram SJ
Founder
Loyola College
(1870 – 1936)

100 years ago, a Jesuit priest disregarded sceptics and bought 50 acres of “unattractive” land in Madras for ₹60,000. And thus was born one of the most prestigious colleges in south India

Ranga.Raman@timesgroup.com

In the early months of 1924, the expanse between the water tank and railway line in Nungambakkam was dotted with patches of cultivation and brick kiln chambers. This is where Father Bertram and a few others from the Society of Jesus bought 50 acres to set up a Catholic College in the capital of Madras Presidency at slightly under ₹60,000.

This was born Loyola College with Father Bertram at its helm as founder-principal. A century later, it has grown to be among the most prestigious in south India.

On March 10, 1924, Governor of Madras Lord Willington and Lady Willington laid the foundation for the main building. A year later, Loyola began functioning with 75 students in three BA courses (history, economics, and mathematics).

The annual report of 1924-25 says some people advised Father Bertram against buying land beyond Nungambakkam tank as it was outside the corporation boundary (which roughly followed the tank bund) and they feared it would be difficult to get electricity and water connection. The team tried to buy land south of Sterling Road, but fearing competition and a price increase, returned to the first choice. At the time, the now-crowded Sterling Road was virtually deserted, with just five bungalows dotting it.

The Loyola site, though desolate and unattractive, was not without beauty. “At sunset, on a November evening, with the tank filled to the top of the embankment and silhouetting the adjoining fields, it glittered in the fading light while heavy, dark clouds, fringed with crimson and gold hanging over the western horizon were mirrored in the still waters; and to the south arose the confused mass in which eye could scarcely distinguish the sombre foliage of palm and casuarina trees from their image in the lake, the lengthening shadows of approaching night blurring colours and forms,” says the 1924-25 annual report of the college.

Father Bertram’s dream of establishing a Jesuit college in Madras, with the primary objective of providing university education in a Christian atmosphere for deserving students irrespective of creed was not without challenges.

When he went abroad after the end of World War I to collect funds for the proposed institution, the response was poor due to the economic depression. Pope Benedict XV contributed 100,000 lire (₹27,000 at the

By Dec 1924, the first floor of the college building was built. The columns of the upper verandah could be seen standing out against the sky and every day a stream of visitors would come by to see the building. It was ready at the beginning of the 1925-27 academic year.

The building is in the shape of the capital letter ‘T’ in which the central part is made up of large rooms with two wings comprising smaller rooms. The three-storey structure had 17 rooms on the ground floor including for the principal and college office. The second floor had nine rooms with a Quin Hall for examinations and meetings.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS

The beams of the main building had ‘Fleet England’ inscribed on them, which shows they were made in the UK and shipped to India,” says professor K S Antonyssamy of Loyola College. “The classrooms are spacious with good ventilation and acoustics. The iconic main building was recently renovated.”

Loyola now offers 22 UG courses and 21 PG courses. BCom and BSE Visual Communication are two most sought-after. The institution which

The college will hold an international alumni day event in Dubai in Aug. This year, the annual Bertram tournament will be conducted at the national level for tennis, hockey, kabaddi, volleyball, and cricket.

“We are planning to raise about ₹100 crore as a corpus fund to support 1,500 students annually. We hope to achieve at least 50% of the target during the centenary year. The interest will be used to provide scholarships,” says George B Chertan, joint secretary and convener of the centenary celebration committee of Loyola Alumni Association.

“The centenary year celebrations will begin on July 31 with a religious function. Students and others will be invited to a second celebration on Aug 1. Celebrations will be on through the year.”

Let Your Light Shine

Let your Light Shine

In Jesuit education, we are concerned about what our students 'become' rather than what they 'know' and the difference they make in the lives of people, after their stay on the Loyola campus.

Today LOYOLA COLLEGE stands tall because its journey is different and unique. It emphasizes excellence as well as ethics. Gratitude fills our hearts to the brim. At once, we look up to Saint Ignace of Loyola, the Founder of Jesuits, who had the vision in 1540 to choose education as the tool of liberation and empowerment of the marginalized and make them men and women for others.

தான் பணமும், நாடி வேண்டாமா, வேண்டாமா? என்பதை மீடுகிறேன் சொல்வது, அப்படி பேசாமல் நதைதான் பணமும். அவர் மாநில, இவர் மாநிலி வரவேண்டும் என்று நினைக்க வேண்டாம். அது, மற்றவர்கள் வாழ்ந்தால் அது நடைபெறுவது தான் சிறப்பு, என்னை பொறுத்தவரை காலம் தான் என்னை இயக்குகிறது. தற்கால மிகப்பெரிய குற்றம் நமக்கு தம்மை பற்றியே மிகையான மதிப்பீடு இருக்கலாம். ஆனால் அவை அருவியில் சென்றால் தான் நாம் யார்? என்பதை தெரிக்கும். பொறுமை இருந்தால், அதற்கு முன்பு பொறுமை தானாவது மிகப்பெரிய குற்றம். பிசைக்கு நனைகையை கொள்வது செய்வது சமமானது. பெற்றோர் கொடுத்த உயிரை மாய்த்துக் கொள்ளும் உரிமையே யார்?
