

A training session on cinematography

Cinematography students had a one day outdoor shooting practice session on the premises of Loyola College on 30th October, 2015. Mr. B. Kannan and Mr. Manavalan - eminent personalities in the field of cinematography- were the chief trainees who accompanied students in this field activity.

Students had hands on experience to outdoor lighting, camera movements, track & trolley handling etc. Learning the fundamental techniques involved in outdoor shooting from the experts was an enlightening and enriching experience.

Mr. B. Kannan and Mr. Manavalan guided the students throughout the day with their expertise, making the session productive and exciting.
