

Students mesmerised by the king of horror and mystery

Renowned film director Mr. Nagha – known for his thriller television series, horror and mystery films, mesmerized students with his lecture on February 24, 2016. Students of Movie making, Cinematography, Film Editing & Visual Communication benefitted from this session. Prior to the director's address to students, a video montage of his television serials "Marmadesam", "Rudhraveenai" and glimpses of his feature film "Anandhapurathuveedu" were screened for viewing.

The chief guest shared his television serial making experiences and explained the major differences between serial making (silver screen) and feature film production. He highlighted the importance of camera angles and camera movements in the movies. Towards the end of the session, students had an interactive session with the Director who took the occasion to mould students into young creators.
