

98 journalism students get skill certificates

Chennai, Aug 12: The valedictory event of the Certificate Programme in Applied Journalism (CAJ), conducted by Loyola College, Chennai in partnership with the Tamil Nadu Skill Development Corporation. 98 students out of 100, who completed the course received their certificates.

Addressing the budding journalists, Ms. Innocent Divya, IAS, Managing Director, Tamil Nadu Skill Development Corporation (TNSDC) said that the success of the programme depends on the commitment and responsibility with which the students are going to mould the public opinion and in turn contribute towards the policy making of the government. She added that the programme was launched to train quality journalists with ethics.

M. Gunasekaran, Editor-in-Chief of the Sun News who participated as special guest in the event insisted on the 'fairness' principle in journalism today and asked the future journalists to be with the truth and write on behalf of the socially disadvantaged people.

Felicitating the students, Rev. Dr. B. Jeyaraj, Secretary expressed the institution's willingness to conduct such socially and industry relevant programmes. Rev. Dr. Louis Arockiaraj, Principal, Loyola College called them to be true to their profession and create opportunities to shape up themselves as responsible journalists even against the challenges. Rev. Dr. A. Irudayaraj, Prof. M. Malini, and P. Elayaperumal, Programme Head, CAJ, participated in the valedictory event.
