Key Takeaways
Summary of the Activity	Introduction: The Department of Hindi, Loyola College, organized a Nukkad Natak (Street Play) on the theme “Van Mahotsav – Aao Ped Lagayen, Dharti Ko Muskurayen” on 21 July 2026 at 11:00 a.m. in Bertram Square. The objective of the programme was to create awareness about environmental conservation, afforestation, and the importance of protecting natural resources. Through a lively and engaging street play, students highlighted the consequences of deforestation, climate change, and environmental degradation. The performers effectively conveyed the message that trees are essential for sustaining life and maintaining ecological balance. The programme attracted the attention of students, faculty members, and visitors, creating a meaningful dialogue on environmental responsibility. Key Highlights: ➤ Trees play a vital role in maintaining environmental balance and combating climate change. ➤ Afforestation and environmental protection are collective responsibilities of every citizen. ➤ Small individual actions, such as planting and nurturing trees, can contribute significantly to a greener future. ➤ Street theatre is an effective medium for spreading social awareness and inspiring behavioural change. ➤ Students realized the importance of sustainable living and active participation in environmental conservation initiatives. Key Outcomes : ➤ Increased awareness among students regarding environmental sustainability and forest conservation. ➤ Enhanced student participation, teamwork, communication, and creative expression through street theatre. ➤ Strengthened the Department's commitment towards social outreach and environmental consciousness. ➤ Inspired students to become responsible citizens and environmental ambassadors in their communities. The event was meticulously planned and executed by the students under the guidance of Dr. Beena Kumari Nair, Head of the Department, Dr. Mahalakshmi K., Coordinator with the support of the faculty members Dr.R.Uma and Dr.R.Ramila and student volunteers of the Department of Hindi.
