25- There was a king who was ruling over a small country. He had a very clever minister. There was a barber in the palace whom the king loved very much. The king respected his words very much. Due to some reason the barber became very jealous of the minister. He wanted to get rid of him by some way and so he was waiting for an opportunity. One day he said to the king Oh King, indeed you are very happy here. But we don't know how your ancestors are in the heaven? It will be better if you send our minister to the heaven to know their condition.
