DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE
Cogito Ergo Sum (I think therefore I am) - Rene Descartes

Dear Friends,

In the words of Surendra Kumar, “Ever writing of serious and permanent nature not only lays stress on action, but also celebrates it, as it has been found to be the basis of survival since man & woman started thinking. Without action it is almost impossible to continue living. This truth has been perceived by all the great philosophers and thinkers. Only men & women of action have succeeded in shaping the society that has become for us worth being part of.” In the words of William James—“Believe that life is worth living, and your belief will help create the fact”. In fact, it is people, who have the belief that their action towards making the society an ideal place will change everything for the better of humanity at large, which matters the most to us. They have the will to carry on their action with faith, dedication and confidence. If you do the same, there is all likelihood that you will go higher in life. Actually, “faith is love taking the form of aspiration”. Without faith in yourself, you will not be able to march towards the fulfilment of your goal in a steady way. You are, therefore, required to become a woman of action who defies all odds en route to success. What Drives You? The courage and persistence to keep going on, past hurdles and obstacles, is powered by purpose. Your purpose, they have no choice. To give up is to die. And they are survivors. Are you? What drives you to keep on going here in this Loyola campus & in LWH.? The answer to that question will lead you towards your powerful purpose. Any endeavor driven and fueled by purpose cannot fail.

There is a beautiful quote by Henri Bergson—“Think like a woman of action and act like a woman of thought”. It means that your action should be the result of a well-thought-out plan. Before embarking on a journey to success, you should lay out your course of action. That will not allow you to make any effort aimlessly. An aimless effort is never fruitful. Every action with an aim is sure to succeed. Jawaharlal Nehru said, “Actions to be effective must be directed to clearly conceived thoughts”. It means that you should never act before giving every idea a second thought and knowing the full implication of that idea. Your complete knowledge of an idea helps you decide the direction of your effort. Such an effort, more often than not, dispels the doubts and you can proceed with your action in a confident way.

In a nutshell, there should be a good coordination between your thought and action. If the two are in harmony, there is nothing in this world that can shake your faith in yourself, your self-confidence. In fact, it is your self-confidence which decides your way of thinking. And your way of thinking decides your personality. In this world, only such people are supposed to succeed, who have the ingredients responsible for making a strong personality. One of the greatest Russian writers, Anton Chekhov has rightly observed, “Man/woman is what he/she believes”. Therefore, believe in yourself.

If you don’t believe in yourself, who else will? Honestly, if you don’t believe you’re going to succeed, then how on earth would anybody else do? Imagine living a life without arms and legs. This is the reality of Nick Vujicic. Most people including himself doubted his ability to live a normal life. The moment he found belief; however, it was the turning point. Now, Nick lives a life without limitations, traveling the world and inspiring millions of people to believe in themselves, regardless of circumstances. Believe in yourself, you have a great future which is hidden right now time to unfold, seize the opportunities and leave the Legacy behind.
